Dear Sir/Madam:

On behalf of the Biotechnology Innovation Organization (BIO), I am pleased to invite you to attend the 2017 BIO International Convention in San Diego, California June 19-22. The BIO International Convention is the global event for biotechnology, showcasing the people, companies, policies and innovations that help heal, fuel, and feed the world.

The BIO International Convention is the largest biotechnology gathering of the year, attracting numerous U.S. and foreign government officials, CEOs, research and non-profit leaders, and other dignitaries. Together, 16,000 attendees from over 70 countries and 48 U.S. states gather for three days of partnering meetings, educational sessions, networking events, and exhibition.

Accordingly, I would like to invite you to participate in the 2017 BIO International Convention. Poland's biotechnology sector is of great interest to our members, all of whom are actively seeking new sources of collaboration, investment, and ultimately, to deliver novel products to improve human health and address other pressing global challenges.

Should you decide to accept our invitation, we will help you with registration and work with you to develop a personalized program for your visit to discuss Poland's growing biotechnology sector. We would be pleased to arrange an opportunity for your delegation to meet directly with other government officials, and top-level executives from the world's foremost biotechnology companies. Additionally, there may also be a potential opportunity to speak on one of our international panels, as well as arrange site visits to biotech companies and research institutes in the Southern California Area.

If you have any questions about BIO and/or the 2017 BIO International Convention, you are welcome to contact Hilary Stiss on my staff at +1.202.747.6255 or hstiss@bio.org. Thank you for your consideration of this invitation. We look forward to hosting you at the 2017 BIO International Convention in San Diego.

Sincerely,

James C. Greenwood
